

CHRISTMAS APPEAL FOR THE NEAR EAST

West Virginia People Are Asked to Give to This Cause.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 18.—Drastic steps must be taken by every one interested in the movement if West Virginia is to do her share in responding to the Christmas appeal of the Near East Relief, according to Dr. William E. Smith, state executive secretary, who today issued the following statement governing the situation:

"The Christmas appeal in the last several days has assumed various aspects. Going out from headquarters will be the Christmas letter and other literary matter concerning this work. In addition to this an appeal will be made in a unique form, a large empty bowl, together with five smaller ones, being placed in each leading hotel, with the sign:

"This family is hungry. They have no breakfast. Will you buy them one?"

"The motion picture, 'Austrian of Souls,' portraying the horrible conditions which prevailed when the Turk invaded and attempted to render extinct one of the oldest and finest Christian nations of the world, will be shown throughout the state. Every effort is being made to put this proposition up to the people of this state in the most graphic and at the same time comprehensive manner possible.

"Out of all this it is hoped that a most hearty and generous response will be realized. All checks and cash will be deposited with the treasurer of the division, J. C. Morrison, president of the Capital City bank, and all donors will receive from headquarters a voucher for their gift. One will also accompany the bank acknowledgment to Cleveland H. Dodge, national treasurer of the Near East Relief.

Miss Blanche Goldsmith Says Noxzema Worked Like Magic For Sunburn And is Now Using It As a Face Cream for Complexion With Wonderful Results.

"I was severely burned this summer and suffered agonies for two days. A friend suggested Noxzema. Positively I hadn't applied it five minutes when the pain stopped as if by magic. Since then I have used it as a cleansing cream and it has rendered a good, clear complexion. I have been generously distributing small samples of it to the different girls to whom I have spoken of the wonderful healing properties, and they are desirous of buying it, but have not been able to find it in the Philadelphia stores. Can you advise me where we may procure it in this city. Get a 250 trial jar from Crane's drug store. If you find it works like magic tell your friends. If not tell us and get your money back.
